TULANE LAW SCHOOL SUMMER 2021 SESSION
MASTERS OF JURISPRUDENCE STUDENTS

How to Obtain a Summer 2021 Session Educational Loan:

- 1.) Federal Direct Loan – complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, (FAFSA, studentaid.gov) for 2020-2021 and for 2021-2022. This will help prepare your file not only for a summer session, but also for next fall and spring.
- 2.) Complete the Summer Addendum and return to the Law School Financial Aid Office (on the back of this sheet OR next page if you are receiving it via email). Email it to: finaid@law.tulane.edu
- 3.) Summer Session Registration (educational loans are certified for registered students only)

Federal Loans for Summer 2021 Sessions:

Federal loans may not disburse to your Tulane student account until the first day of classes for your summer program. Also, please be aware that the Tulane University Accounts Receivable Office may assess a finance charge if the session begins (and loan disbursements arrive) a month or more after tuition is billed (April 15, 2021 or the 15th of the month after you register). When tuition is billed, the bill will be due the following month. To borrow a federal loan, you must be enrolled for at least five hours. Only students who are enrolled in a regular degree program at Tulane will be considered for federal loans through Tulane.

Students who have not yet borrowed the annual $20,500 maximum federal limit for Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loans during 2020-2021, and who have completed a 2020-2021 FAFSA, may inquire about borrowing Federal Direct Unsubsidized funds for summer sessions. You may also choose to use your Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan eligibility from the 2021-2022 year. If you attended last summer, you may have already utilized your summer eligibility. In that case, you must complete the 2021-2022 FAFSA, so that your summer eligibility can be drawn from that. Students who are interested in pursuing a leniently-credit-based Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan should inquire about borrowing Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan funds for summer sessions. This is not usually necessary unless a student has reached their aggregate maximum in federal student loans ($138,500). The Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan has a lower interest rate and origination fee than the Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan. Most students in the Masters of Jurisprudence program will have remaining unsubsidized loan eligibility for the summer session.
